

What Sets The Ultimate Limo Apart?

Availability

Ultimate Toys usually has $10-12 million worth of Sprinters in inventory or production at any given time. That means immediate delivery and no wait time for our customers, which is usually a 4 to 6 month build time.

#1 in Quality

We pay close attention to every detail - custom woodwork throughout, hand-sewn interiors, and seats built like a fine piece of furniture. All very different than what's found in the current marketplace with the standard being what's found in a typical RV - plastic trim, stationary seats, and couches that are nothing more than a cushion set on a laminated wood frame.

The base of an Ultimate Toys' couch is recessed for both comfort and appearance. It's perfectly color coordinated to match the interior.

Unlike competitors who use an inexpensive $5 hinge, we use a quality $38 hinge on our cabinets. It's just one more example of Ultimate Toys going the extra mile to deliver the highest-quality Sprinters on the market.

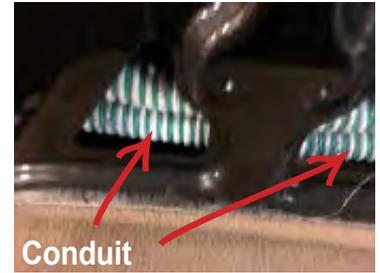

Storage Area Options

Most Sprinters have limited or no storage space and passengers must put their luggage on the floor at their feet or on the seats. The Ultimate Limo has up to 50 cu. ft. of rear storage space for luggage, golf clubs, sports equipment, supplies, or anything you need while on the road.

No More Rattling

We build our Sprinters using up to 50% more wire fasteners than most competitors to keep wires from rattling. We stuff our walls and ceilings with heavy insulation, and we use conduit to protect the wiring from chafing and breakage - all to prevent future electrical problems down the road and to eliminate noise in areas that aren't accessible after the Sprinter is built.

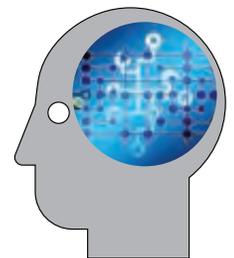

If you could compare side-by-side, you would ask yourself, "Do I want something I can be proud of, or am I willing to settle for less quality?"

Safety & Performance

Here's one of the best-kept secrets about our Sprinters that you won't likely find elsewhere. Once completed and before we deliver any Sprinter, each one is sent back to Mercedes-Benz to have the internal computer system reprogrammed.

You see, Sprinters are originally built as cargo vans. They are very basic with no frills and are used primarily as work trucks. When it's transformed into a high-end luxury Sprinter, it becomes a completely different vehicle, but the computer's brain still thinks it is a work truck. It won't take into consideration the extra weight that's been added, changes to the suspension and other critical factors. This can dramatically affect its performance. If the "brain" isn't reprogrammed, you may experience a rougher ride, poor gas mileage and a number of other performance issues.

Our Sprinters are built to meet some of the most stringent safety standards in the industry - something most conversion companies can't say. Don't put yourself or your family and friends at risk.

Suspension upgrades give you the most luxurious ride.

Unlike others, we completely upgrade the entire suspension to insure you a smooth, quiet and comfortable ride. Here are just some of the things we do - we add stabilizer bars in the front and rear, crosswind resistance package, additional springs and a rear sway bar for better stability. We also have the suspension upgraded from the normal 3-leaf springs to 8 per side, install rubber boots between each spring so you don't have metal on metal for a smoother ride, replace the shocks with adjustable Ride-Rite shocks and more.
